Navigation

The website will focus on a tree structure, going from top to bottom, starting with Intro/main section, which then links into the about section.

From the about section, you will have several options, besides using the “menu”.

In the about section, there is an option to:

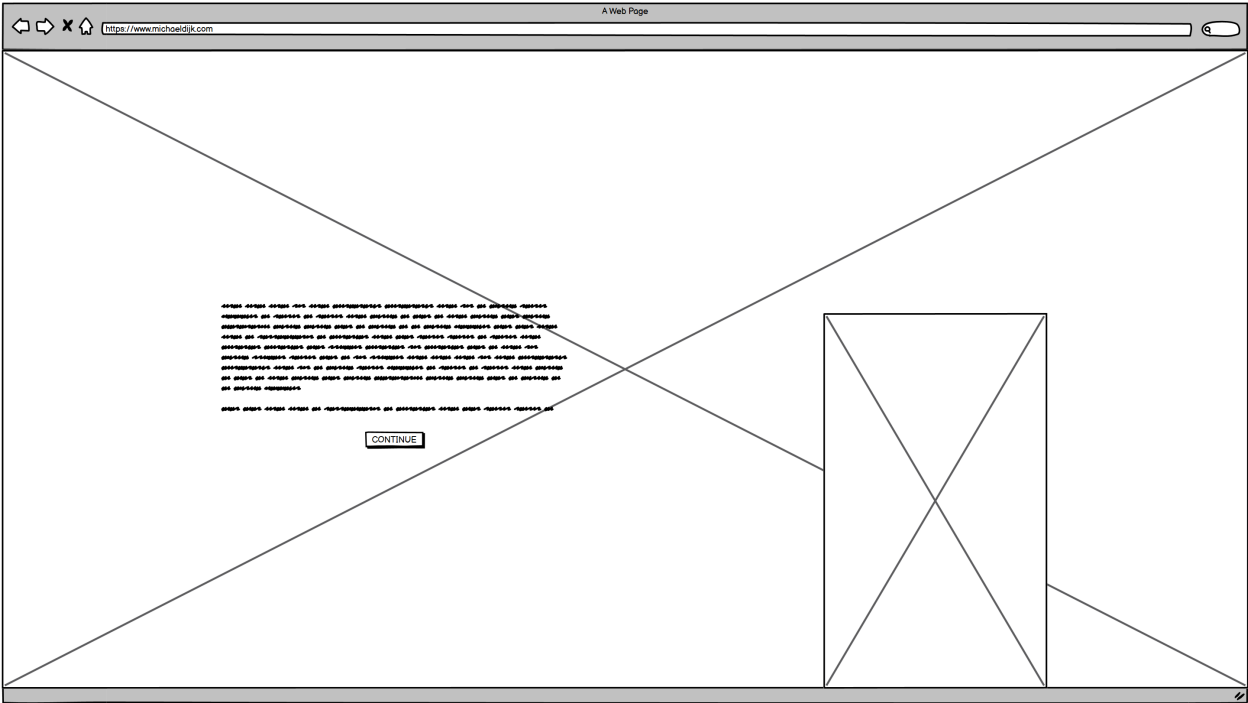

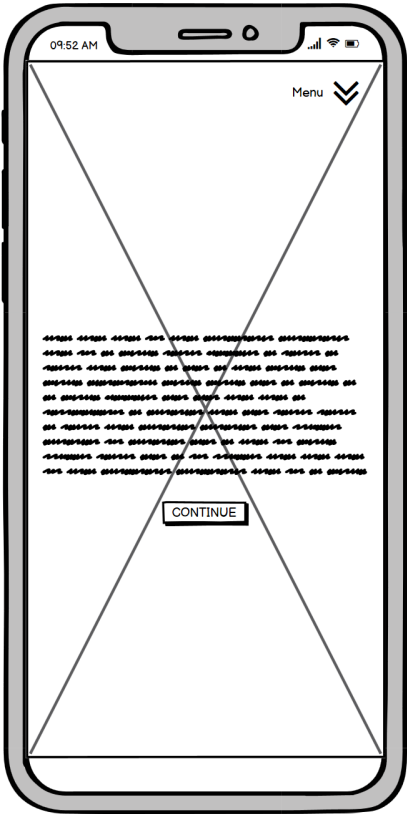

- Download resume
- View previous employments
- Link to the contact section, to make direct contact with the site owner

Scrolling down, from the about section, you will go to the portfolio section.

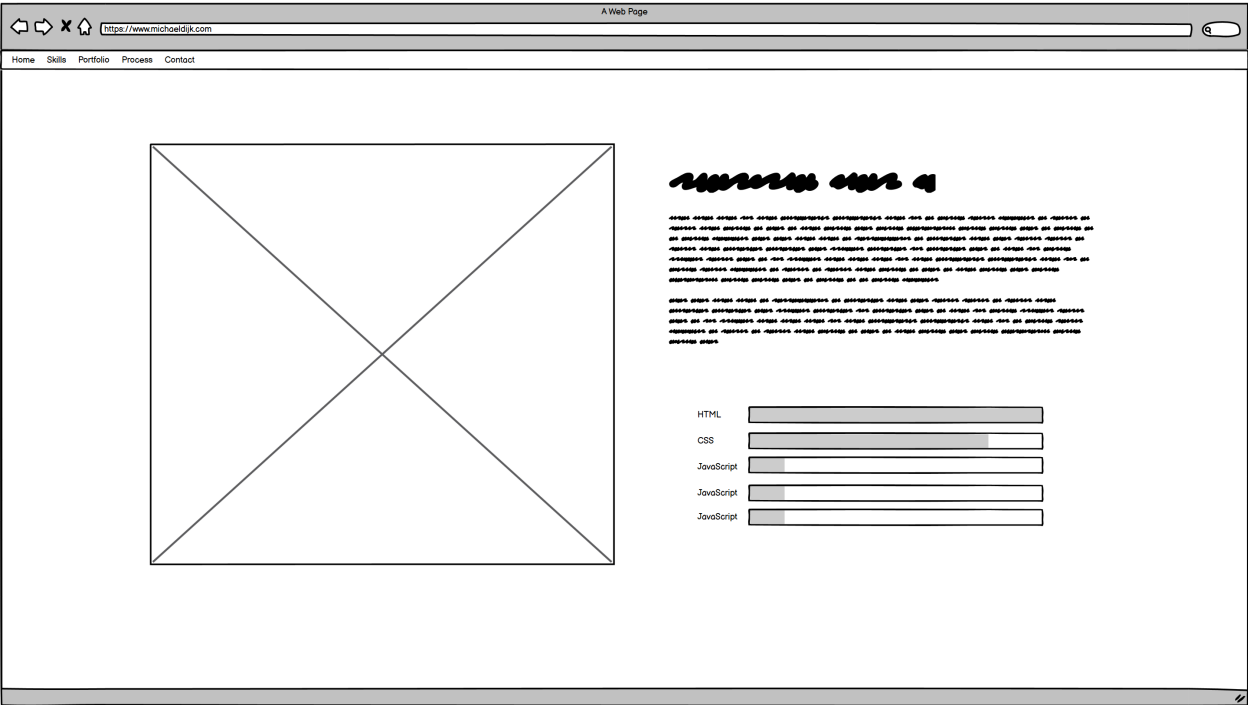

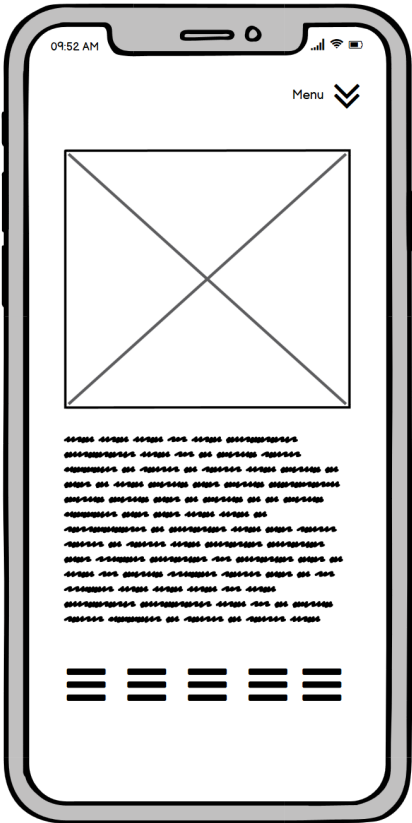

Once passed the portfolio section you will then continue onwards to the process section, as this would be best to be discussed after viewing previous / current projects.

Lastly, you enter the contact section, where the visitor or potential recruiter then can get in touch with the site owner.

Colours used on the site

- Menu bar & Footer colour: #F23827 & #404040
- Sections colours: #F25041 & #F27166 & #404040
- Text colour: #F2F2F2 & #404040 & #F27166

The decision has been made to choose two different colours for texts, as, the dark colouring will look good for headings on the sections, and the lighter (white accent) looks good for the main parts of the page, texts.

We will expand each section just below the 100% View Window, to allow some hinting for further down the page.

We will not do this, while on the main section (intro) as this will have a hero item, large heading text, with small paragraph containing the “slogan” of the site, and a button to continue, besides the menu bar on top.

Colours have been chosen with the help of Adobe colours, as I am colour-blind, and matching the right colours, is not always an easy task to do.
